

Who We Are

Croxton Kerrial Village Hall is a late Victorian building that has been fully modernised and extended to include toilets and is now owned by the village through a separate Trust as well as being a registered charity. Details of the constitution can be obtained from the Secretary: Jackie Johnston <jaquelinejohnston@gmail.com>

Trustees: Kate Evans, Richard Botterill and Simon Hawkes

The Village Hall has been subject to a rolling programme of upgrades and now features double glazing, a new state of the art kitchen and modern central heating.

There is a separate management committee which is responsible for its upkeep.

The Management Committee and Officers are:

Chair	Kim Ranns
Secretary	Jackie Johnston
Treasurer & Booking Secretary	Finola Delamere

Committee Members

Karen Coles, Tricia Laurance, Sarah Mant, Lesley Hawkes,
Cathy Tate, Clare Carvell, Debra Wiltshire, Mandy Pettitt

The Management Committee also stage regular village events that are advertised within the village that are hoped to enhance a sense of community. Suggestions for events that might be of interest to the wider community can be emailed to the Secretary: Jackie Johnston <jaquelinejohnston@gmail.com>

Hire rates for regular use by community groups are deliberately kept low to encourage use for the benefit of the wider community.
